

Professor Fikri Abu-Zidan research educational activities during the 6th Annual Conference of the Malaysian College of Emergency Physicians (6th EMAS 24), 4th -7th August 2024, Kuala Lumpur Convention Centre, Kuala Lumpur, MALAYSIA.

Professor Fikri Abu-Zidan was invited as a speaker in the Annual Conference of The College of Emergency Physicians of Malaysia under the banner of the World Society of Emergency Surgery and United Arab Emirates University. During these four days he could run two-full day workshops (from 8 am till 4.30 pm) in Kuala Lumpur, on 1) Starting research with low budget at Hospital Kuala Lumpur on 4th August (Figure 1) and 2) medical writing at KPG Healthcare University on 7th August 2024 (Figure 2) to support the research activities at Malaysia. A total of 75 candidates were trained (46 on site and 29 online). Furthermore, he had two lectures on Point-of-care ultrasound and management of earthquake injuries during the congress (Figure 3). The workshops were highly appreciated and built collaborative research projects on local Malaysian trauma areas (Figure 4).

Figure 1: Pre-congress workshop on starting research with low budget tailored for developing countries was run at Hospital Kuala Lumpur, Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia on 4th August. The first row of the upper picture (left to right) includes Datuk Dr AlZamani Idrose, The president of the Malaysian College of Emergency Physicians, Professor Fikri Abu-Zidan, The Statistical Consultant of the World Society of Emergency Surgery, and Dr Hani Eid, Emergency Physician, the National Search and Rescue Center, Abu Dhabi, UAE.

Figure 2: A Post-congress workshop on Medical writing was run at KPG Healthcare University on 7th August 2024.

Figure 3: Professor Fikri Abu-Zidan presented two lectures on Point-of-care ultrasound and management of earthquake injuries during the congress.

Figure 4: Professor Abu-Zidan has multiple meetings with Malaysian colleagues giving research advice and discussing possible research collaboration during his visit. Upper picture from left to right: Associate Professor Dr Razrim Rahim, National delegate of WSES, Professor Fikri Abu-Zidan, Prof. Dr. Mohd Azmani Sahar, Deputy Vice Chancellor, Director of KPG Research Centre, KPG HealthCare University, and Datuk Dr AlZamani Idrose, President, Malaysian College of Emergency Physicians.